

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, MARCH 22.

Probably the president has forgotten that there is such a thing as an interstate commerce bill.

The president is doing all he can for his party in the different states. He is pardoning a good many criminals.

The Pemberton Epitaph thinks that the interstate commerce bill will result in spoiling a good many pairs of shoes belonging to Arizona editors.

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada last week was increased $39,932 bushels of corn, and diminished 1,000,251 bushels of wheat, 208,809 bushels of oats, 3,327 bushels of rye, and 141,026 bushels of barley.

From the New Haven News: Wisconsin claims to lead all other states in the production of Limburger cheese. If this is true, none of them will care to approach near enough to take it away from her.

It is said that an engineer in Springfield, Ill., is preparing to submit a plan to the authorities of Belle Plaine, Ill., to curb the famous sporting well at that place. If the plan succeeds it should be taken to Washington during a session and tried on congress.

John Sherman has been worth, and from the Charleston News and Courier come these eloquent words: The Sherman presidential campaign has opened with a boom in North Carolina. During the last week or ten days three towns in that state have been set on fire. If the senator from Ohio could only secure the services of his distinguished military brother as the chief of the fire brigade this march to the white house would be made much brighter.

Charles Francis Adams, president of the Union Pacific railroad, speaking before the Boston Commercial club on Saturday evening, said that in all departments of the Union Pacific a fair, intelligent and reasonable expression should be given to the interstate commerce law. He considered the long and short haul provision just, and also debated provision prohibiting rebates drawbacks and secret arrangements. The press system he declared an outrageous abuse to which the most radical remedy should be applied. The prohibition of pooling he thought wise, and asserted that the pooling system benefited the people as well as the railroads.

John Bright, in a speech before the Peace society recently, at Los Angeles, of the crimes committed by his country during the reign of Queen Victoria. During the reign of Queen Victoria, the last fifty years, the foreign history of the country has been one of war and oppression. The cruelly practiced in New Zealand, the Chinese war, the Zulu war, the two Afghan wars, the Crimean war, England's greatest struggle since Napoleon's time, in which 1,000,000 men were sacrificed for nothing, and the military operations in the Sudan, make up an appalling list of useless sacrifice of life. The great English statesman says that the only war of the past fifty years is any country which would not be difficult to tell the reason for, is the American Civil war, which he regarded as a great punishment to this country for allowing slavery to exist within its borders for one hundred years. Mr. Bright thinks if this record would be wiped out, then England would have good cause to celebrate a jubilee.

The Chicago Tribune, which advocated the passage of the interstate commerce bill, now utters a wail because the eastern roads are taking what the new law gives them. Here is the wail:

The developments of the last few days show that, while the New York railroad magnates have abandoned all idea of defying the new railroad law, they are still holding their ground. They have determined to strain and torture its provisions and go as far as they can in making them needlessly and unjustly oppressive to the public. Apparently the western railroad managers who started out with the intention of liberating the law fairly and liberally have been overruled by the western stockholders of the east, and are now acting under orders to put the screws on shippers in the hope of making the interstate commerce act obnoxious and creating a public opinion in favor of the repeal of the act. Such a policy only can explain the outrageous jump of grain rates from Minneapolis to Chicago from 7 1/2 to 13 cents, the heavy increase in the rates exacted from commercial travelers, the abolition of excursion rates, and the determination to continue paying commissions in plain violation of law.

The result is not different from that predicted some time before the bill became a law. The Minneapolis board of trade sent to congress an opinion as to the operation of the bill should it become a law, and the Tribune said it was a "bosh." But the board of trade was right, and Caswell, of this state, was right, and now shippers have got to pay dearly for the folly of congress. The eastern railway magnates are simply doing what the law tells them they may do. It is a bitter pill for the Tribune, and a very poor law for farmers and shippers.

DEMOCRATIC FRANKNESS.

The Hon. John D. McPherson, democratic senator from New Jersey, was asked to give his views on the parties, that it might be published in the democratic Cincinnati Enquirer. He answered by saying: "I do not look upon the democratic prospects for 1888 with as much confidence as you and our opponents do. Look at my own state of New Jersey. There you see a man elected for five years to the senate who got but three democratic votes, and yet he is a democrat. The republicans put him in. Certainly that shows a complete depression of party lines and organizations."

When Mr. McPherson was asked what he thought of the republican party as to its strength in national affairs, he said: "I may be mistaken, but I think that they will be able to go before the people and claim the honor of the last congress. I do not mean to say that they deserve such claims, but they are exceedingly anxious as a party. The house of representatives fell quite below the expectations of the democrats. The senate, which is controlled by republicans, either had got up most of the successful legislation or adopted it. There is poor Tilden, who has been working for fifteen years for an interstate commerce bill, and it is finally passed and called the Callum bill. Then the fisheries bill was passed originally by the senate, and the house neglected to pass another bill and made a failure of it, and finally had to adopt the senate bill, and our president is entrusted with the execution of it. If he does not execute it he will be criticised, and if he does the timid people will be frightened. Then the pension bill, which was passed by both houses of congress and vetoed by the president, will come into the campaign, justly or unjustly, to our prejudice."

The democratic senator from New Jersey confessed that the republican party has more presidential timber than the democratic party, and when he was asked as to the probability of re-nomination of Cleveland, he did not give the democrats much hope, for he said: "That is hard to say. He has some interesting qualities, but he does not combine them with those forces which constitute a large organization. Considered by himself, Cleveland is a man of self-reliance; considered as a portion of a great organization he has his critics. The democrats have not looked beyond the state of New York for an antagonist for Mr. Cleveland; of the west named he seems to command the most prominence. The democratic party has not the broad pick of the republicans, who control so many of the northern states. They also go here and there and are versatile in their selection. We are confined to the president and his principal opponent."

Mr. McPherson thinks the democratic administration has not done much to hold the democratic vote together, and therefore he regards the result next year very doubtful, especially as it regards the democracy.

THE MUDDY MISSOURI.

Pierre, Dakota, threatened with inundation by a Rapid River.
PIERRE, D. T., March 22.—Great anxiety is felt here, occasioned by the sudden rise in the Missouri river. At about 10 o'clock Monday morning the river, which has been clear of ice for several days and very low, began to rise rapidly. At noon it was about four feet above low water, with large quantities of ice floating. At 6 o'clock the water was nearly even with the top of the bank, and the ice completely filled the channel. Communication with Fort Pierre is impossible. At dark the residents of Fort Pierre were seen moving to the high lands, and since then it is impossible to tell what has occurred there.

The water is rising at the rate of a foot an hour, with the channel jammed with ice, and should a gorge form for five minutes the damage to the city will be beyond estimate. The people in the lower portions of the city are preparing to move to the bluffs at a moment's notice.

A RECKLESS RAILWAY COMPANY.

Testimony That Shows Criminal Negligence at Bussey Bridge.
BOSTON, March 22.—The testimony before the state railway commission, relating to the cause of the accident at Bussey bridge, seems to fix a very grave responsibility upon the company for reckless disregard of frequent warnings that the bridge was unsafe. Nearly all of the testimony is to the effect that the civil engineers—none connected with the railway or the construction of the bridge—have declared that the bridge was unsafe, and Monday afternoon H. A. Pomroy, C. E., swore that he had neglected no many signs of danger that he heard to the road. The alignment of the bridge was faulty, he said, and there was a shock when the cars left the abutment and went on the bridge that was nearly sufficient to knock a man down if he was standing on the track. He also spoke to Ed Keith, a railway employee, about it, and was told by Keith that it would do no good for him (Keith) to speak of it. Mr. Pomroy then reported his observations at the office of the state railway commission, and was told that the matter would be attended to, but it never was.

OFF WITH THE NEW LOVE.

A Reversal of the Old Saw Takes Place at Tuscola, Ill.

TUSCOLA, Ill., March 22.—A story with a tinge of romance is being told in Humboldt township, a few miles south of this city. A respectable and highly-situated young farmer of that township was betrothed to the handsome daughter of one of the neighboring farmers after a brief courtship. All the preparations were made for the wedding, and the young couple were to be married on June 1st. On June 1st last his eyes were struck and destroyed by a foul-tipped ball, and he claims that the company should have erected a netting to prevent such accidents.

THE PRESIDENT'S DANGER.

A WASHINGTON PHYSICIAN UTTERS A WORD OF WARNING.

The National Executive likely to Drop Off for Want of Exercise—Too Much Head Work and Its Probable Results—A Prescription Gratis—Official Notes of General Interest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—Dr. T. S. Stevens, of this city, in an interview with a critic reporter, issued a warning and argues President Cleveland to change his mode of living. Dr. Stevens, months before Secretary Manning was seized with this unfortunate attack, predicted that that officer would not live through the time of the present administration, "unless," as he said at the time, "a most radical change is made in his daily life." Monday to the critic reporter the doctor came on in this manner about the president:

"It may be deemed important to talk to the president through a newspaper man, but I know of no other way of reaching him and those about him so surely. You recall my attempts with the friends of Mr. Manning and their fruit, and I do not feel that I should take the same chances in this matter. I am personally apprised of the president's condition, and while it is in no sense dangerous, it will not be long before there will be every reason for alarm. President Cleveland is a large, fleshy man, and since his advent to the White House has gained enormously in weight. Now, when he lives in the White House, he takes long walks. Since he came here, however, he has abandoned every form of exercise save carriage riding. That is of little or no use, with the springs now used, and the small streets for which Washington is famous. The president is a man who works with his head a great deal; in fact an intense brain-worker. He is, in other words, a plodder, and his brain is consequently filled with an excess of blood. What is the result? He works with his head, and consequently, and fails to exercise his muscles. His blood vessels are weakened, and it is only a question of time before, in a moment of excitement, he bursts a blood-vessel. I tell you, at the late President Cleveland is now living there is great danger that he will not live through his term. Something should be done to bring him to realize his danger and take the proper steps to prevent the result which will surely ensue if he fails to take proper exercise."

"What I should recommend," Dr. Stevens adds, "would be the fixing up of a room in the White House, and the setting apart of a half hour every day for gymnastic exercise. That alone, in my opinion, will prevent a catastrophe, the avoidance of which will not allow the president, but the country at large, is interested in securing."

Another Dose to Fight Over.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—The contest for the secretaryship of the interstate commerce commission has already become quite active. Mr. Morrison has a score of applications for the position and each of the commissioners, when appointed, will probably have a score or more to consider. So far Mr. S. A. Jones, private secretary to Assistant Secretary Muldrew, of the interior department, and Mr. E. T. Cowell, of Philadelphia, are regarded as among the leading candidates. Mr. Cowell is a stenographer and a railroad man of twenty years' experience, and for several years was state agent for the Reading Railroad company. Mr. Jones is a native of Mississippi and is a journalist of experience, having published and edited The Aberdeen, Miss. Examiner for the past fifteen or twenty years.

To Case of War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—A paper entitled "Mobilization and Concentration of the Canadian Militia for Defense of the Frontier," printed in the current issue of the "Journal of the Military Service Institution," has caused no little comment in both military and civilian circles here. The writer, from a Canadian point of view, is fixing the number of men at the smallest possible limit for the defense of a line extending from Quebec to Detroit, basing his calculation on a force of 150,000 men. This force is divided as follows: 40,000 at Montreal, 10,000 at Quebec, 10,000 at Kingston and 30,000 at Toronto and in the western peninsula; the remaining 40,000 to be used as a movable column along the north bank of the St. Lawrence.

A State Law Rejected.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy case, involving the constitutionality of the Iowa law requiring railroad and other corporations to take out license conditioned that they will not transfer cases from the state to the federal court, was finally submitted to the supreme court Monday.

Turpie's Man Gets the Place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—The president published the following complimentary "appointments": Emory B. Sellers, United States district attorney for Indiana; Thomas Hayden, United States district attorney for Nevada; and George E. Fritchett, United States district attorney for Nebraska.

Recorder Trotter Improving.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—Mr. Trotter, the new recorder of deeds for the District, who was attacked with a serious case of malaria last Thursday, was reported better Monday. The physicians think the crisis of the disease is passed.

Kansas City Designated.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—The comptroller of the currency has authorized the First National bank of Ogden, Neb., with $50,000. The comptroller has also designated Kansas City, Mo., as a reserve city, under the new law.

Affected Missouri.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 22.—Governor Marmaduke Monday notified the legislature that he will at an early date issue a proclamation convening that body in extra session to take necessary action on the provisions of the constitution relating to railroads as common-carriers, as set forth in a message to the governor, which he is generally understood that the first Wednesday in May will be the date on which the legislature will convene.

Wants $25,000 for an Eye.

NEW YORK, March 22.—James S. Dolan sued the Metropolitan Exhibition company for $25,000 damages in the supreme court Monday before Judge Donohue for causing him the loss of his right eye. While witnessing a game of base ball the polo ground on June 1st last his eye was struck and destroyed by a foul-tipped ball, and he claims that the company should have erected a netting to prevent such accidents.

A Brave Mexican Woman.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., March 22.—At Morales, Mexico, last Saturday night, a woman named Juana San Manuel, armed with a knife, instantly killed Andres Amador and mortally wounded Eucarnado Martinez, two Mexicans who were attempting to force an entrance to her house. The woman was arrested and jailed.

Those who believe that nature will work off a cough or cold should understand that this is done at the expense of the constitution. Each time this weakens the system, and we all know that the formation of this dangerous practice is a consumptive grave. Don't take the chance, when a fifty-cent bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure will safely and promptly cure any recent cough, cold or throat or lung trouble. NOTES FROM THE CAPITOL.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, March 22.—In the senate this morning bills were passed appropriating $2,000 to make a school exhibit at the National Convention in Chicago next July.

In the assembly the senate joint resolution was concurred in making the oldest chief justice in point of service in the supreme court, ex-officio chief justice. Bills were passed allowing judges of circuit courts to expedite the trial of cases by calling in judges from other circuit courts when a change of venue is sought on account of prejudice; making the governor, the state superintendent and the president of the state university ex-officio members of the board of regents of the state university; the board to consist of seventeen members; permitting public authorities to prohibit the sale of liquor to any person when that person is liable to squander his property and bring his family to want or on the town for support; requiring cases where judgment has been reversed by the supreme court to be brought within one year if at all; allowing insurance commissioners to condemn reports of insurance companies, and requiring him to publish a statement in the official state paper and in one paper in Milwaukee; permitting the state board of supervision when they deem it for the best interest of the state to establish a manufacturing business on account of the state at the state prison, and appropriating $100,000 therefor.

The assembly refused to concur in senate bills prohibiting any property from being insured for more than two thirds of its value and taxing mining companies $2 per $1,000 of capital stock.

Convention of Western Brewers.

CHICAGO, March 22.—About 100 brewers from several western states met at Uhl's hall Monday to organize a Brewers' National association. Louis Frisch, of Chicago, was made chairman, and the convention began business by submitting a constitution and by-laws for adoption. The matter was submitted to a committee, and most of the day was devoted to debate of the committee's report. It was finally adopted, and a permanent organization was effected as follows: Louis Frisch, of Chicago, president; William Gruenther, of New York, and Charles Gort, of Cincinnati, vice presidents; Conrad Kautz, of Detroit, treasurer; William Frisch, of Chicago, secretary; and a board of sixteen trustees. The members of the convention and about 200 guests discussed a banquet at night.

The new association proposes to take definite action against those who adhere to the temperance and prohibition—and the preservation of their rights and privileges, and to unite for protection against the demands of employers.

"Can State" Is a Good Phrase.

BALTIMORE, March 22.—The American published the following complimentary "appointments": "The American can state from the very best authority that the Baltimore & Ohio road is an accomplished fact. The names of the participants, the roads to be consolidated and the various details are still kept in secret, but the deal itself is a fact. The American can state further, and by the same authority, that Baltimore's interests have been looked out for, and that the Baltimore & Ohio road will not pass out of the management of President Lehigh Valley, and that day could will have no hand, or voice in the new arrangement."

—It seems doubtful just now whether the winter's accumulation of ice and rubbish will be removed from Milwaukee street in time for the Fourth of July parade.

—Mrs. Eugene Crandall's funeral will be held from the family residence to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. The remains are to be taken to Milton for burial.

—Fully sixty boys and young men were present at the Wayside Inn last evening. The weekly meetings are very successful and seem likely to accomplish much good.

—The Janesville Prohibition club will hold a meeting at Good Templar hall on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. An interesting program has been prepared. All are cordially invited. Wm. F. BERTS.

—That vividly drawn dispatch concerning the small box that was sent to one of the city papers, did Janesville a great deal of injury. Reports that have no foundation are bad things for any one to spread.

—Miss Jessie Fredericks entertained the high school class of '87 at her home in the fourth ward last evening. Refreshments were served, and with music, recitations and dancing the time passed very happily.

—Judge Patten is still busy with the case of Patten against Adams. The suit concerns a dissolution of partnership and a contract for the manufacture of some brooms. H. A. Patterson is for the plaintiff and E. H. Blanchard for the defendant.

—Sheriff Ward is quite anxious after Lee Erwin's welfare. The bigamist's "If they don't acquit me, I want you to take me to —," the blank representing a place which Ingersoll and the geography makers claim to have no existence.

—Ocella Rish is still playing "Marta Strogoff," this is her fourth season with Manager Charles L. Andrews' combination. Others have tried the part and failed. The English speaking actresses who could play this part, one could count upon the fingers of one hand. Maria is a hero, emotional and at the same time a sympathetic character—a character almost unknown in the whole range of the drama.

—Some of the telegraph company's people are anxious for an argument with the boys that shoot glass insulators from the poles along railroad tracks. Janesville boys that hire rifles and go out for a day's hunting have done this several times lately and have caused much trouble. Shooting matches of this kind cost fifty dollar a shoot, and the sheriff acts as ticket seller, at least for the state says, and Mr. Jay Gould's employees say that they intend to have it tried.

—In November, 1835, William Terry was found guilty of assault and battery and Judge Patten fined him twenty dollars. He appealed to the circuit court, giving bail for his appearance, but when the case was called he was not in sight. A SLOW WEEK.

So the Tobacco Men Thought the One Day Passed Through.

"We are in the market for '87," said one of the firm of Conrad Bros., "but the prices paid will be low. The crop in general is a poor one, and we don't intend to give much over three or four cents. About the only leaf that is selling well just now is binder and filler stock, and that is what we expect to buy."

The fact that Mr. Conrad's belief is shared by quite a number of other dealers, makes the prospect for '87 seem dubious. There is likely to be a further reduction of acreage in cigar leaf this year.

For a week past sales have been slow. Bad roads have been responsible for much of this. Old tobacco was in fair demand, although the best of this crop is being gradually cleared away.

In New York an even and active market still exists without any noteworthy features. Pennsylvania leads, as will be seen by our reports elsewhere, while Wisconsin '85 leaf comes next, at rather low figures.

Only at Baldwinville, New York, and at Mountbush, Ohio, are active inland markets to be found. Connecticut and Pennsylvania are "hiking" vigorously against low prices, but it seems likely that this year has little of anything else in store. The controversy as to whether seedleaf or Spanish is the best leaf to raise is still attracting considerable attention but the sentiment seems to be principally in favor of the Spanish.

WARD COMMITTEES.

The following gentlemen compose the republican ward committees in the several wards, it being their duty to call the ward caucuses for the election of delegates to the county convention which meets at the court house on Friday of this week, March 25th. Many republicans have expressed a desire that the caucuses be held on Wednesday evening, while others are in favor of Thursday evening. We trust the committee will attend to the matter in time. The committees are:

First ward—James Shearer, S. P. Hoskins, E. G. Harlow.

Second ward—O. F. Nowlan, J. G. Saxe, Ohio, Myhr.

Third ward—H. L. Lea, E. F. Carpenter, J. A. Fathors.

Fourth ward—E. J. Green, Adam Sauer, M. M. Conant.

Fifth ward—Q. O. Sniderland, N. E. Bennett, J. G. Wray.

THE CITY COMMITTEE.

THE WATERWORKS.

The board of water commissioners hold a regular meeting last evening, at which all the commissioners were present except Commissioner Denniston.

Engineer Ruger presented the plans and specifications for the water works plant, including the pumping house, pipe lines, fire hydrants, and everything connected with the works. The same were placed on file to await results at Madison. Considerable discussion was had relating to the engines, and finally the engineer was authorized to correspond with different parties relating thereto.

After some informal discussion of various matters concerning the works, the board adjourned.

So far as the board of commissioners are concerned, everything is now ready to award contracts for putting in the works.

Be sure and call for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, if you are troubled with a cough or cold.

Mr. L. B. Kiefer, of Lancaster, Pa., wrote us—Having a sprained leg of almost thirty days standing, and after trying all the various advertised preparations in the market without satisfactory results, I tried Salvation Oil and in less than three days my leg was all right again. There's nothing like it.

PLAINLY INTERESTED.

Harper's Oscar: "Papa," said fond mamma, "do you know that Dobby told me a deliberate story to-day?" What's that?" said papa looking sternly at Dobby.

"A story? Do you know what becomes of little boys that tell stories?" (Bobby didn't know.) "The lions and tigers eat them up. You mustn't tell stories, Dobby," he whisked."

A Little Heaven Nearest the Windie Loop.

A disease in one part of the body will eventually fall the whole body with disease. Every year or two some part of the system grows weak and begins to decay. Such part should be removed at once and new matter be allowed to take its place. There's no need of cutting it out with the surgeon's scalpel. Purge away the old, diseased and worn out parts with Brander's Pills. Then the new body will take care of itself.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 25 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with northeast wind. At one o'clock p. m., the register was 38 degrees above zero. Clear with northwest wind. For corresponding hours one year ago the register was 25 and 37 degrees above zero.

Diseases which Affect the Kidneys.

Are among the most formidable known. Diabetes, Bright's disease, gravel, and other complaints of the urinary organs, are not ordinarily cured by simple cases, but they may be cured by timely medical aid. A useful stimulant of the urinary glands has been found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which not only affords the requisite stimulus when they become inactive, but increases their vigor and conservative power. By increasing the activity of the kidneys and bladder, this medicine has the additional effect of expelling from the blood impurities which it is the peculiar office of these organs to eliminate and pass off. The Bitters is also a purifier and strengthener of the bowels, an invigorant of the stomach, and a matchless remedy for biliousness and fever and ague. It counteracts a tendency to premature decay and sustains and comforts the aged and infirm.

WHEELER & STEVENS.

AMUSEMENTS.

GOLDEN COMEDY COMPANY.

Judging from the small amount of money paid for "Collars and Cuffs" last night, Janesville's laundry bill is light. The audience at Myer's opera house was a small but delighted one, and they applauded every good point vociferously. Charles Gilday as "Willie Waddle," the week and faithful editor, and Tommy Beane as "Sarah Ann" were especial favorites and made many friends. The piece is a well-landed and cunningly combined collection of humorous absurdities, well soaked with popular sayings, embellished with song and dance and hung out to tickle the ear and please the eye of the public.

NOW "ROCK" LOOKED AT STROGOFF.

Nick's Garden now holds "Michael Strogoff" and the grand drama, with the tales at Moscow and the Emir's camp. The battle scene and the burning of Irkutsk, with the woes and triumphs of Michael Strogoff delights thousands.

No one has an excuse for living in New York, who does not see this show, unless he is blind or an inmate of some public institution where there is no charge for board or lodging.—Pack.
